Letter from the General Manager

Community service is a powerful raison d'être for public media. In this era of consolidation and large, international media companies, public television remains the only locally owned and operated television broadcast facilities.

In October, we participated in the Pierce County Heart Walk. We introduced you to the Tacoma Mayoral candidates and their opinions. This month, our Emmy Award-winning production team takes you inside the women's correctional facility at Purdy to experience a special program for children and their resident mothers. On Nov. 12 we present our new, weekly public affairs program, Northwest Now. During this half hour we will open the telephone and e-mail lines for your questions and comments.

Community issues, community voices, community response. These lie at the root of public media's mission and daily work. We thank you for joining KBTC's expanding community focus as a viewer and a participant.

Sherlock Holmes Marathon

Thursday, Nov. 26 • from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m.

This Thanksgiving evening, KBTC serves up a plate of mystery and intrigue! Join Holmes and Watson as they unravel a cornucopia of shocking crimes. Episodes include: The Dancing Men; The Naval Treaty; The Solitary Cyclist; The Crooked Man; The Speckled Band; and The Blue Carbuncle.

KBTC/KCKA, licensed to Bates Technical College reaffirms its policy of equal opportunity and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, age, marital status, disability, or status as a disabled veteran or Vietnam era veteran in its programs and activities in accordance with college policy and applicable federal and state statutes and regulations. Purdy: The Residential Parent Program

Thursday, Nov. 19 • 8 & 9 p.m.

KBTC's Emmy Award-winning production team presents Purdy, a powerful documentary that explores the Residential Parenting program at the Washington Corrections Center for Women. In 1999, the prison created a unique program that allows pregnant minimum-security inmates, with sentences of less than three years, the opportunity to raise their child. The inmate mothers and their babies live together in a designated unit while receiving support and education in alliance with Early Head Start educators. The program allows the mothers to connect with their children and create an attachment that will impact both the child and mother for a lifetime. You'll follow inmate mothers and their infants for several months, and witness the power of early intervention as mother and child bond and as their lives, together, take a new direction.

Northwest Now

Premieres Thursday, Nov. 12 7:30 p.m.

KBTC wants your voice to be heard. Join us Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. for Northwest Now, your chance to speak directly with the people that shape our community. Each week, we will explore the current events and community issues that matter to you and give you the opportunity to call in and express your thoughts, ask your questions, and be a part of the conversation.

On Nov. 12, we explore the need for volunteerism in our community. Pierce County's unemployment rate climbs and with inclement weather around the corner, the needs of those who are less fortunate in our community are growing. While this is a time of uncertainty for these individuals, it is also a time for those who have the means to reach out. We'll take your phone calls to hear how you are lending a hand in this season of giving.

On Nov. 19 host and KBTC General Manager, David Hinman sits down with the newly elected Mayor of Tacoma. The new mayor will face a number of issues including the economy, transportation, education, and local infrastructure. This is your chance to call in and address the mayor directly with your questions, comments and concerns.

Frontline: Obama's War

New Season begins Thursday, Nov. 12 • 9 p.m.

Tens of thousands of fresh American troops are on the move in Afghanistan, led by a new commander and armed with a counter-insurgency plan that builds on the lessons of Iraq. But can U.S. forces succeed in a land long known as the "graveyard of empires?" Frontline once again takes you on the dangerous journey to the battle lines of America's biggest fight. Through interviews with top U.S. commanders on the ground, with U.S. forces and fresh reporting from Washington, you'll see up close the U.S. counter-insurgency strategy in Afghanistan and Pakistan. It's a fight that promises to be longer and more costly than most Americans understand.

Full Focus: Olympic National Park

Tuesday, Nov. 3
7:30 p.m.

Local author Ruth Kirk will help decode some of the park's mysteries and explain the important and interconnected ecological web that exists on the western coast of Washington. She also shares her inspirations for writing "The Olympic Rain Forest," considered to be the quintessential guide to one of our own unique National Parks.

The National Parks: America's Best Idea

Series begins Nov. 1 • 8 p.m.

This six-part documentary series, directed by Ken Burns and co-produced with his longtime colleague, Dayton Duncan, who also wrote the script, is the story of an idea as uniquely American as the Declaration of Independence and just as radical: that the nation's most special places should be preserved, not for royalty or the rich, but for everyone. As such, it follows the tradition of Burns' exploration of other American inventions, such as baseball and jazz.

Subtitled in English.

"I LOVE PBS!! PBS is one of those channels that I turn to and get hooked on for hours even though I meant to do something else that afternoon! PBS is the last haven for non-commercial media in this country… Thank you so much for all you do."

"I just wanted to let you know how much I enjoy PBS. I really appreciate and feel that knowledge is power and your programming gives a wealth of knowledge to both adults and children. Thank you and keep up the good work."

- KBTC Viewer

"Even if I find a way to take it with me, I'll still leave something to KBTC!"

"While pondering my will and estate planning I couldn't pass up public television. In particular, KBTC with its excellent mix of entertainment for all ages.

From children's programming without commercials to history, science, music and more. I could not think of a better choice ."

"It's THAT important to me....."

Linda Walkama on her legacy to public television

Antiques Roadshow: Unique Antiques

Tuesday, Nov. 17 • 8 p.m.

Roadshow's "Unique Antiques" showcases some of the most outlandish, kitschy and downright morbidly fascinating antiques and collectibles of the series' last decade. Warning: these objects have been appraised by trained professionals – don't try this at home! Highlights include a Weller pottery humidor in the shape of a skull; a chair once belonging to Chang Bunker, the owner's great-grandfather and half of the 19th-century's world famous conjoined twins, Chang and Eng; and a collection of tin cans salvaged from a 19th century dump and valued at $10,000-$14,000.
